- I understand that unauthorized use of another’s account, password, or identity will result in academic and potentially legal action.
- I will never share my account password, and will contact the WJC IT department immediately should I believe that my account information has been compromised.
- I will maintain appropriate conduct in the classroom and online, and will refrain from using threatening, harassing, sexual explicit, or discriminatory language.
- I am aware that WJC employs safeguards to protect my privacy online by providing a confidential username and password at the time of my matriculation.
