How to read the course schedule

Semester course schedules can be found on William James College's website (<http://download.williamjames.edu/registrarforms/fall-course-schedule.pdf>). Any course changes are updated as received, maintaining a current listing.

The course section number will indicate whether the class is offered in the morning, afternoon, or evening, instructional method, or off site location of the class. The 1st digit is the type/location of course section; the 2nd digit is 1-9, then A, B, C, D, etc.

- Examples; x=2nd digit
- Ax = Afternoon section M-F noon until 4PM start
 - Bx = Blended section
 - Ex = Evening class starting at 4PM or later
 - Fx = Field placement or Internship location
 - Lx = Online section
 - Mx = Morning section M-F prior to noon start
 - Px = Project
 - Sx = Offsite but not field placement
 - Wx = Weekend classroom use
 - Xx = Independent study, or course with no room or site needed

The course schedule is read across as follows: course # and section, course title (abbreviated), day of week and time the class is held, the room assignment ('W' denotes Wells Avenue location), # credits, the max enrollment allowed, the # of students enrolled, # of seats available, # of students on a waitlist, and whether the class is open for additional students. Courses offered in a blended format list the meeting dates.
